ABSTRACT

The New Jersey Grade 8 Early Warning Test (EWT), which consists of reading, mathematics, and writing sections, is to be used as a primary indicator for identifying students who may need instructional intervention in those content areas. The EWT is designed to give an indication of the progress students are making in mastering skills needed to pass the Grade 11 High School Proficiency Test. Three proficiency levels have been established for the EWT. Students scoring in the lowest level (Level III) need instructional intervention. A total of 71,219 students took at least 1 section in March 1995. This report includes a series of tables summarizing test results for the state, Special Needs Districts, all other districts, and District Factor Groups. Six tables present this information, followed by a 66-page report in tabular form that contains district-by-district and school-by-school results grouped by District Factor Group (a measure of socioeconomic status). Of the regular students who took all 3 EWT sections, 76.9% scored in Levels I or II, while only 42.1% of students in Special Needs Districts scored at Levels I and II. (Contains seven tables.) (SLD)

Grade 8 Early Warning Test Results
March 1995

Executive Summary

The New Jersey Grade 8 Early Warning Test (EWT) consists of three sections--Reading, Mathematics, and Writing--and is to be used as a primary indicator for identifying those students who may need instructional intervention in the three content areas. The EWT is designed to give an indication of the progress students are making in mastering the skills they will need to pass the Grade 11 High School Proficiency Test (HSPT11). Three proficiency levels have been determined for each of the sections of the EWT. Scores of students in the highest level (Level I) indicate clear competence in the critical thinking (or higher order thinking) skills measured by the EWT based on this test performance. The scores of students in the middle level (Level II) indicate at least minimal competence based on this test performance. Students scoring in this level may or may not need instructional intervention. The scores of students in the lowest level (Level III) are considered to be below the state minimum level of proficiency based on this test performance. Students scoring in this level need instructional intervention.

The EWT scores are reported as scale scores. In Reading, the scores range from 1-99 (Level III), 100-149 (Level II), and 150-189 (Level I). In Mathematics, the scores range from 32-99 (Level III), 100-149 (Level II), and 150-212 (Level I). In Writing, the scores range from 1-99 (Level III), 100-149 (Level II), and 150-250 (Level I).

A total of 71,219 regular curriculum students took at least one section (Reading, Mathematics, or Writing) of the EWT between March 7 and March 16, 1995. This number excludes those students classified as special education or limited English proficient.

This report includes a series of tables summarizing test results for the state, Special Needs Districts, All Other (Not Special Needs) districts and District Factor Groups (DFGs). Table 1 shows the distribution of students who scored in Levels I, II, or III in the 1995 test administration with comparative data from the 1994 administration. Table 2 shows the distribution of students who scored in Levels I or II and who attempted all three sections as well as students who attempted one, two, or three sections. Table 3 is an all-sections state summary of students who scored in Level I. Table 4 is a display of students tested by category, e.g., regular students, special education students, or limited English proficient students. Table 5 presents the test section results by DFG from the 1995 administration with comparative data from the 1994 administration. Table 6 shows results for Special Needs Districts as compared to all other districts. Finally, the report contains district-by-district and school-by-school results grouped by DFG with summary statistics from 1995 and 1994. An explanation of the District Factor Groups is included at the end of this report.

The EWT scores in this report exclude special education students, limited English proficient students, and students whose answer folders were voided for a particular test section.

The data in this report are based on information collected from students' answer folders. Subsequent to the distribution of test results in June 1995, there was a procedure for amending student identification information to correct errors that were made when students' answer folders were completed. Corrections to student identification information that were received by the State Department of Education by June 30, 1995 have been included in these summaries.

DISTRICT FACTOR GROUPS

The District Factor Group (DFG) is an indicator of the socioeconomic status of citizens in each district and has been useful for the comparative reporting of test results from New Jersey's statewide testing programs. The measure was first developed in 1974 using demographic variables from the 1970 United States Census. A revision was made in 1984 to take into account new data from the 1980 United States Census. The DFG designations were updated again in 1992 using the following demographic variables from the 1990 United States Census.

A. Percent of adult residents who failed to complete high school

B. Percent of adult residents who attended college

C. Occupational status of adult household members:

1 = laborers
2 = service workers (except private and protective)
3 = farm workers
4 = operatives and kindred workers
5 = protective service workers
6 = sales workers
7 = clerical and kindred workers
8 = craftsmen, foreman, and kindred workers
9 = quasi-professionals
10 = managers, officials, and proprietors
11 = old and new professionals

D. Population Density:

persons per square mile

E. Income:

median family income

F. Unemployment:

percent of those in the work force who received some unemployment compensation

G. Poverty:

percent of residents below the poverty level

The variables described above were combined using a statistical technique called principal components analysis, which resulted in a single measure of socioeconomic status for each district. Districts were then ranked according to their score on this measure and divided into eight groups based on the score interval in which their scores were located. Eight DFGs have been created based on the 1990 United States Census data. They range from A (lowest socioeconomic districts) to J (highest socioeconomic districts) and are labeled as follows: A, B, CD, DE, FG, GH, I, J. Updating the DFGs has not changed any district's designation as Special Needs or not Special Needs.

Whereas the DFGs based on the 1980 United States Census resulted in 10 groups containing approximately equal numbers of districts, the DFGs based on the 1990 United States Census resulted in eight groups of different sizes depending on their score. The number of districts* in each DFG is now as follows:

DFG	Number of Districts
A	35
B	78
CD	75
DE	100
FG	87
GH	78
I	105
J	15

* Includes all New Jersey's public school districts (regardless of school configuration or grade levels served).
